Pre-Meeting AI Briefing

You're arriving at Acme Manufacturing in 3 minutes.

You have one active opportunity worth $185,000 that is currently in the Proposal stage. The customer is waiting for updated pricing and the implementation timeline.

You have two open tasks: send the revised proposal and confirm the security documentation.

Your last meeting was positive, but Legal requested to review the contract before moving forward.

You don't have any meetings scheduled after today, so this is a good opportunity to agree on the next step before you leave.

Post-Meeting Conversation

AI:

Welcome back! How did the meeting go?

Sales Rep:

It went really well. They liked the proposal and are ready to move forward once Legal reviews the contract. They also asked me to send the latest security documentation, and we agreed to meet with their technical team next week to go over the implementation.

AI Confirmation

Perfect. I've added the technical meeting for next Wednesday at 10:00 AM and noted SAP integration as the customer's primary concern. Anything else before I save the updates?

Pre-Meeting AI Briefing

You're arriving at Northwind Retail in 2 minutes.

Northwind Retail has been a customer for five years and currently has an expansion opportunity for the Inventory Analytics solution in the Discovery stage.

From your last meeting, the customer expressed interest in expanding to additional stores but wanted a better understanding of the expected ROI before making a decision.

You have one open task to review their Q4 rollout plan.

Your objective today is to validate their budget, identify additional decision makers, and determine whether they're ready to move forward with a product demonstration.

Post-Meeting Conversation

AI:

Welcome back! How did your meeting with Northwind Retail go?

Sales Rep:

Overall, it went really well. They confirmed they want to continue evaluating the solution, and they seemed much more confident after we discussed the expected business impact. They also asked me to send a few customer success stories and some additional information before we meet again.

AI Follow-up

Great to hear. I'll update the opportunity with the positive feedback and create a task to send the customer success stories and additional information.

Before I save everything, is there anything else you'd like me to capture? For example, did you agree on a timeline, were there any concerns, or did anyone else become involved in the decision?

Sales Rep:

Yes, their Operations Director and Finance Manager will both participate in the next meeting. We haven't picked a date yet because they're checking everyone's availability. Their biggest question is how quickly they could deploy the solution across all locations.

AI Confirmation

Perfect. I've added the new stakeholders, recorded the deployment timeline as the customer's primary question, and noted that the next meeting still needs to be scheduled.

Once you have the meeting date, I can update the opportunity and send you a briefing before your next visit. (nota de la IA)
