

Here is the summary of our conversation, structured into a clean table for easy migration into a spreadsheet.
FieldHub CRM: Intervention & AI Assistant Implementation Summary
Category	Focus Area	Key Requirements & Strategic Decisions
Product Vision	Field Sales Control Tower	Proactive, AI-driven intervention system designed to minimize "windshield time," optimize route efficiency, and ensure high-quality CRM data entry.
Manager View	Desktop Control Tower	Life360-style "Team Circle" tracking interface. Features macro geospatial fleet monitoring, behavior-based warnings (late starts, non-client dwells), and high-density KPI scoreboards.
Rep View	Gamified Mobile App	Consumer-grade, dopamine-driven interface. Tracks "Manager Pulse" health, quota pacing, and streak gamification to incentivize compliance and preparation.
AI Assistant	Contextual Debriefing	Proactive NLP engine that triggers pre-meeting briefs (15m prior) and hands-free post-meeting debriefs. Captures visit length, topics, opportunities, and follow-ups.
Key KPIs	Efficiency & Growth	Planning Horizon Velocity, Face-Time vs. Windshield Time (3:1 ratio), ICP Density, and Deal-Tier Allocation (70% Tier-1 focus).
Implementation	Product Backlog	Five core epics: 1. Trigger Infrastructure, 2. LLM Briefing Assembly, 3. Multi-Entity NLP Parsing, 4. Salesforce Writeback, 5. Gamified Voice UI.
Suggested Next Steps for your Product Owner
Prioritize the "Assistant" Interface: Focus on the voice-to-structured-data pipeline (Epic 3) as it is the critical path for data quality.
Define Intervention Thresholds: Determine exact "trigger" limits for route deviations or non-client dwell times (e.g., 52 minutes at a coffee shop) to refine the Manager Dashboard alerts.
Refine Gamification Logic: Finalize the "Manager Pulse" calculation—ensuring reps understand exactly which data-entry actions shield them from manager oversight.
When you are ready to start over, you can paste this summary into your next session to provide the context needed to pick up exactly where we left off.			